Listen - Connect - Collaborate

Catchment to Coast Consulting is now 6 months old and we have been very busy supporting a number of community and business initiatives.

We've been working on helping a world class nature based wellness facility in Gippsland. Our best practice land management plan will enable the creation of a purpose based bush therapy facility, a first in Victoria.

The Ventnor Recreation Reserve Management Plan is now finalised creating a equine based reserve for use by the whole of community

Working with the North East CMA, we have worked on the Lower Ovens River Catchment Plan, shaping the future of this diverse and productive part of Victoria

Assisting members of Carbon Farmers Australia with their data collection and storytelling of their journey to a changing climate adaptation and mitigation has been very inspiring

We continue to facilitate community groups and organisations to develop their strategic plans, the development of management plans and work with landholders to develop whole of farm land management and business plans.

Keep us in mind for future projects and remember we can collaborate with others to meet your needs.

What's next.

With recent grant announcements we will be busy helping individual's and organisations bring their dreams to reality.

This includes working with a local winery, a co working space and a major land management project.
